Parkinson's Symposium

for You and Your Family

Saturday, September 24, 2011 • 9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Parkinson's and Movement Disorders Program at Froedtert & The Medical College of Wisconsin.

If you or a loved one is living with Parkinson's disease, you will want to attend this symposium. Experts will present the past, present and future of Parkinson's disease with presentations from the following:

- Allison Ebert, PhD, Medical College of Wisconsin Assistant Professor in the Department of Cell Biology, Neurobiology and Anatomy, will discuss using stem cells to understand and treat Parkinson's disease.
- Daniel Corcos, PhD, from both the University of Illinois at Chicago and Rush University Medical Center will share his recently released research findings after a two year study on Parkinson's and exercise.
- Movement Disorders Neurologists Karen Blindauer, MD, Bradley Hiner, MD and Katie Spangler, MD will discuss the history of Parkinson's, the newest evaluation tools and treatment options and the non-motor symptoms of Parkinson's including mood and memory.
- Over 20 exhibits

Cost: $10.00 per person (includes continental breakfast and lunch)

Country Springs Hotel Conference Center
2810 Golf Road, Waukesha, WI 53187-2269
